Mark Chapter 275, O.E.S., Celebrate 50th Anniversary

SOME 100 GUESTS HELPED CELEBRATE THE EVENT

Mark Chapter, No. 275, Order of the Eastern Star, observed its fiftieth anniversary in their hall, Friday, Oct. 20th, with 104 guests and members who signed the guest book. Mrs. Viola Priest, President of Mequzee, and May Brooks of Elona Chapter, Mancelona; Mrs. Mary Ann Robertson, Q. F. J. Lewis Chapter, Central Lake; Mrs. Minnie Shepard of Midland Chapter, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. James Mark and son, Robert, of Tawas City Chapter, Tawas City; twelve members of Evangeline Chapter, Boyne City; and 18 members of Charlevoix Chapter, Charlevoix, were the guests present.

James Mark was guest speaker, he being the nephew of Mrs. Esther Mark Palmiter for whom Mark Chapter was named.

The hall was beautifully decorated by the Past Matrons with baskets of flowers, glittering stars and evergreen suspended over the stations of Adah, Ruth, Esther, Martha and Electa, tied with the colors of the stations. The East was decorated with a large 50 and waxed autumn leaves on a green background. The Charter was given a prominent place.

Of the thirty-two men's and women's names on the Charter, six are living:— Wm. J. Palmer, Oshkosh, Wis.; Emma Gibson Zimmerman, Jackson; Mary Kenyon Roy, Chicago, Ill.; Martha Thompson, Grand Rapids; Ella Carson Clark, Iron River; and Abraham Carson, East Jordan. Mr. Carson was the only one present. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Colter were the first members after the Charter and were present. Mrs. Esther Mark Palmiter was the first Worthy Matron and James B. Pamiter the first Worthy Patron.

Mrs. Jane Jackson was reception chairman and Mrs. Gladys Davis W. M. presided. Mrs. Gladys Bechtold accompanist. The program consisted of the following numbers:

Star Spangled Banner:

Invocation — Mrs. Lorene Wade, P. W. M.

Address of Welcome — Wm. Sanderson, W. P.

Response —Mrs. Sarah McNeal Charter Member of Evangeline Chapter.

Robert Mark of Tawas City sang two solos accompanied by his father, James Mark.

Greetings from Worthy Past Grand officers.

Selections by the Masonic Male Quartet.

Greetings were read from several absent ones.

Address — James Mark, Past Worthy Grand Patron of Grand Chapter of Michigan, introduced by Mrs. M. P. Palmiter.

Solo — "A Perfect Day" by Mrs. Alta Drapeau.

"Blest Be The Tie That Binds"

The refreshment table was centered with a beautiful appropriately decorated 4 tier cake topped with a wreath of gold leaves and a gold 50 suspended in the center of the wreath, surrounded by bouquets of yellow marigolds and four gold lighted tapers. This cake was cut by Mrs. Edith Swafford and served with cupcakes, individual wrapped ice cream which was centered with a yellow star, coffee and tea. Jane Jackson and Jane Bowen poured. A. W. Carson, the only Charter member present, was the first one served.

Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints

Men's Institute will meet here at the church Thursday and Friday evenings. All men plan to attend.

District Conference is at Gaylord Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 28 and 29. There will be Church School here at 10:00 o'clock as usual.

Former Whitmore-Brown Property Sold

Purchase of Whitmore Lodge, former Frank Brown property, four miles north of East Jordan on Lake Charlevoix, by Mr. and Mrs. John Witte of Ypsilanti, was announced this week.

The deal was closed in Ypsilanti early this week while Mr. and Mrs. Seth Whitmore, who acquired the estate two years ago from the Browns, were house guests at the Witte home.

The property includes 38 acres with 700 feet along the lake and 1600 feet on highway M-66. The buildings are of split boulder construction and the estate is well known in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Witte, who operate the Gingham Inn near Ypsilanti, plan to make the lodge their summer home. In the meantime the Whitmores plan to reside there until next summer when they plan to build at Austmore Farms southeast of here.

William J. Pearson Charlevoix Co. Pioneer Dies at Age of 91

William J. Pearson, pioneer conservationist who developed Michigan's first forest fire control organization, died recently at the age of 91.

The Boyne Falls native, president of the state's shortest railroad, had served as state senator, state representative and in numerour Charlevoix county government offices. He also served on the conservation commission.

Active in the lumber business most of his life, Pearson early recognized the need for organizing a fire fighting organization to protect the thousands of acres of timber in the state. He became Michigan's first full-time fire officer in 1914. As chief forest fire warden, Pearson was responsible for the groundwork in building a a fire control service which today has served as an example to many other states.

As state senator he was instrumental in the passage of a tax law which provided for lower taxes on timberland, designed to encourage the holding of land for timber growth.

The seven-mie railroad of which he was president runs from Boyne City to Boyne Falls.

In addition to his widow, Florence, surviving are three daughters including Mrs. Helen Seals, Boyne City; Mrs. Nina M. Auble, Rockford; and Mrs. J. E. Stephenson, Lansing.

Miss Annabelle Gaunt Marries Saginaw Man at Angola, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gaunt announce the marriage of their daughter, Annabelle, to Walter Fick of Saginaw on Aug. 8th at Angola, Ind. They are making their home in Saginaw.

A shower was given by her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Henry Dahn and Dorothy of Milford, at the home of the bride's parents, Sunday, Sept. 18th. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. August Habel, Holly; Mr. and Mrs. John Habel, Highland; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dahn and son, Henry, Milford; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gaunt, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. James McInerny and family, Carl Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson and family, Saginaw; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dewey, Birch Run; Mrs. Kathryn Buchheister, Rochford; and the bride's grandfather, Frank Habel, Sault Ste. Marie. Dinner was served to 50 guests. Mr. and Mrs. Fick received many lovely and useful gifts.

MASQUERADE DANCE

Catholic Study Club Met Monday

The Catholic Study Club members and guests met at the home of Mrs. Lenosky, Monday evening, Oct. 23rd.

Following the business meeting conducted by president, Mrs. Wm. Stanek, the daughter of our hostess, Miss Frances Lenosky, gave a very interesting travelogue of her recent trip to Europe, followed by colored slides and a display of souvenirs.

Miss Lenosky made the Holy Year Pilgrimage to Rome and while at the Vatican had a semi-private audience with our Holy Father, the Pope.

She also visited Italy, France, Ireland and Switzerland while on her tour.

Mrs. Mose Hart, assistant hostess, served dainty refreshments.

John and Marjorie Imel Take Over Management of Clover Farm Store

On Monday, Oct. 30th, Mason and Margaret Clark, relinquish the management of the grocery business they have operated for the past ten years.

John and Marjorie Imel of Charlevoix are the new owners and they solicit a continuance of both old and new customers. Open evenings 'till 10:00.

Auxiliary Honors Members With Birthday Party

The regular semi-social meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 227 was held Oct 19 in the Legion Home. It was announced there would be a Lower Peninsula Tour for the purpose of discussion and information in regards to the Auxiliary program for the year. The Tour consists of the Dept. President, Secretary, and two Dept. Chairmen. The Tour will be at Wolverine, Mich., Wednesday, Nov. 1st, at 8:00 p. m. All members who can should try and attend this meeting.

Plans for the joint Legion and Auxiliary Halloween Party to be held Saturday night, Oct. 28, are well under way. This is to be a costume party, not masked. Prizes will be given for costumes. A good time is in store for all. Peggy Thomas presented al the girls of the Installation team with a piece of the corsage which was presented to her when the team visited Harbor Springs recently. There was a cute little verse with ach gift in memory of the occasion.

Following the meeting a Birthday party in honor of Florence tucker and Ann Kamradt was held. Both girls received many mall gifts which provided fun for he women. This is to be a regular feature of the last meeting of the month. Each member who birthday is in the current month will be honored. These gifts are not to be costly but mostly funny. A couple games were then played with much hilarity. A nice birthday cake, baked by Martha Kamradt, was served along with coffee.

Next Auxiliary meeting will be Nov. 2 at 8:00 p. m. at the Legion home. Be sure to attend.

Give To Your Community Chest Now

Our Community Chest Thermometer at the Post Office is steadily rising, we are half way to our goal but we still have a long way to go. This year one of our main projects is the Milk Program. More than one-half of our budget has been delegated to this wonderful cause. Of this, a portion of Mrs. Robertson's salary is included. Mrs. Robertson and Jason Snyder, who head this Committee, stress the need of this city and surrounding community to remember this when giving.

PLEASE GIVE GENEROUSLY

If you feel that you have not given enough, please contribute again to OUR Community Chest Fund. Your contributions will be accepted either at the Bank or at the Post Office, where there are Committee Members employed. We hope to have most of the contributions turned in by the solicitors by the end of this week, so that we can report to you how much has been raised by this drive.

Remember this Milk Program may not affect You and You— but it will affect over two hundred small children. Some of whom would not otherwise have the milk they need.

Thank You and remember Give Again if you can.

Attention Rebekahs

Don't forget our Hallowe'en Party Monday, Oct. 30th. Bring a lady guest and come early. A good time is planned for all.

Jr. Auxiliary Holds Hallowe'en Party

The Junior Auxiliary Unit 227 held a Halloween party at the Legion Home Wednesday, Oct. 18. Games suitable for the occasion were played and prizes for the best and funniest costumes were awarded. A parade down Main St. before the Wednesday night drawing was the highlight of the evening, providing laughs and entertainment for the towns people present.

Refreshments of cider, doughnuts, cookies, apples and candy completed the party, Maraliegh Clark, Activities Chairman, deserves a lot of credit, along with other Auxiliary members who assisted her in making the party a grand success.

E. B. Watkins Local Farm Planner Dies Suddenly

The board of directors of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District were shocked when they received word that E. B. Watkins, local Farm Planner, died suddenly, early Wednesday morning, of heart attack. Mr. Watkins has been Farm Planner of the local district since its organization and has made a host of friends. He was at the home of Mrs. Watkin's parents at Williamston, Mich., at the time of his death.

Friendly Circle Extension Club Present Lesson

The Friendly Circle Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Erdine Rogers, Friday, Oct. 20th. Thirteen members were present. The new officers took charge of the meeting: President, Mrs. Florence Swoboda; Vice-president, Mrs. Lorene Wade; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Helen Watson. Our president gave us the dates of several coming events, both in the county and in the district.

The leaders, Otis Jenkins and Lorene Wade, presented the lesson on property ownership. It was instructive and very worth while. Several very good points were brought out and discussed.

The entertainment was in the form of a rehearsal for the County Rally Day, Oct. 25th. Laura Malpass, Otis Jenkins and Lorene Wade gave a playlet entitled "Jim's Mistake". It brought to life part of our lesson. Louise Hart sang several short numbers, accompanied by Gladys Bechtold.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

4-H Club at Rotary

The Rotary Club, Tuesday, enjoyed a very different and very interesting meeting put on by the South Arm 4-H Club Demonstration Team. The team is composed of Barbara Lehrbass, president; Audrey Elsworth, secretary; Jack Zoulek, treasurer, and members, Sandina Liskum, Margaret Lord, Margaret Zoulek, Rushell Hart, Barbara Fisher, Walter Murphy and Joe Smith. This team won 1st place at Michigan State College this fall in competition with seven other teams, and Mrs. Sadie Liskum, their leader, is naturally very proud of the team and their work.

The demonstration consists of staging a regular 4-H Club meeting, wherein reports are made by officers and committees, motions are made, discussed, passed, rejected or laid on the table. The youngsters sure did a swell job of conducting a meeting, undoubtedly doing a better job than some much more mature societies conduct their meetings. The girls also demonstrated the proper manner to arrange flowers. K. C. Festerling, District Supervisor, of Petoskey, was also in attendance.

Adolph Drapeau gave a report on committee activities that are arranging the Hallowe'en Party at the High School next Tuesday evening.

Hens on U. S. farms laid 4.2 billion eggs during August. This was a new record for the month, both in total number and in average production per layer, say U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Pullets grown on good, clean range, away from older birds, are good prospects for the early fall laying season, say Michigan State College poultrymen.

The large reduction in the 1950 Michigan bean crop can be traced to bacterial blight. Dr. Axel L. Anderson, Michigan State College plant pathologist, says that blight was indirectly responsible for the loss due to weathering this year.

Best Performance of Season Turned In By E J H S Team

DEFEAT OUR ARCH RIVALS, BOYNE CITY, BY 19 TO 6 SCORE

Coach Gayle Saxton's East Jordan High School football team turned in its finest performance of the season here last Friday afternoon as they triumphed over their arch rivals, the Boyne City "Ramblers", 19 to 6, before a large Homecoming Day crowd at the West Side Athletic Field.

East Jordan scored first midway in the opening stanza as Don Whiteford cracked over from the three yard stripe. Whiteford's try for the extra point went wide of the uprights and East Jordan led at the end of the first quarter, 6 to 0.

The Jordanites tallied again in the second frame on a beautifully executed off-tackle play on a fourth down from the Boyne City 45 yd. stripe. Max Sommerville, taking the spinner from Whiteford, went off tackle, cut wide to the right, and outdistanced the Boyne secondary scoring standing up without a hand being laid on him. Key blocks by Whiteford, D. Thomas and Weisler helped pave the way for the fleetfooted Red and Black tailback. Whiteford added the extra point on the same play and East Jordan led at halftime 13 to 0.

East Jordan's final tally came near the end of the third quarter as Sommerville took a hand off from Boring and dived from the three. Whiteford was stopped at the line of scrimmage on an attempt to add the extra point and East Jordan held a 19 to 0 lead at the three quarter marker.

Boyne City, never giving up, put across their only counter in the final minute of play as Pratt took a pass from Mason in the left flat and outdanced several would be tacklers to score on a brilliant 65 yard sprint. Erickson's try for the extra point was no good and the final showed East Jordan on top 19 to 6. The triumph was the fifth of the season for Coach Saxton's crew.

The Jordanites will travel to Mancelona Friday night of this week to meet the "Ironmen" there at 8:00 p. m.

The games with Gaylord, Friday, Nov. 3, will be played at Boyne City that night, under the lights at 8:00 p. m.

Charlevoix continues to dominate play in Northern Michigan Class C. competition; this time it was Harbor Springs who felt the blow as they absorbed a 52 to 12 lacing at the hands of Coach Tyrill's "Red Rayders". It was the fifth conference win in a row for the Red and White this year.

Farm Bureau Roll Call

Are you aware of your wonderful opportunity Nov. 7th. We, in this country, have a chance to place men in office who will carry out our wishes. Not the selfish desires of some scheming dictator. We all have the right to freedom of speech. If we wish to use this right to grumble about the way things are done, that's our privilege. But we need to do more than grumble. We can hardly expect to have a "government by the people" if we fail to get out and vote.

Our forefathers won the right of "government of the people, by the people" with much suffering and sacrifice. We could lose that same right by neglecting our duty to vote.

We should not be so selfish as to consider only what a candidate will do for us and our own group, but what he can do for our country.

So don't be content with just grumbling about conditions. Your vote is your weapon with which to correct them. This is your country and mine. We have the right to say how it should be run. However, we cannat exercise that right unless we vote on election day. So Farm Bureau urges us, one and all, to get out and vote Nov. 7th.

Don't Let the End of the Day Mean The End of Life

Do you know what "proportion" means, friends?—It means "equal or proper share." Well, listen to this: the three hours from five o'clock through eight o'clock in the evening, from the first of October through the last of March, make up only six percent of the entire year. And yet, National Safety Council reports indicate that nearly 25 percent of all pedestrian deaths take place in this brief time-span. That's why the Council says to pedestrians: Don't let the end of the day mean the end of life!

Game Supper of the American Legion Held Tuesday Oct. 17th.

Post Activities Chairman Leon Peterson finally came up with a good idea. Since there were so many eager rabbit and bird hunters in the Legion, we ought to have a Game Supper. Chief Cooks, Charlie Dennis and Oscar Light were anxious to try out the new American Legion Auxiliary kitchen also, and the rest of the fellows were anxious to eat so we had the supper Tuesday evening, Oct. 17. Leon had everything lined up in good shape except the sights on the various firearms so everyone present enjoyed a wild game supper topped off with a few tame chickens.

M. C. Joe Wilkins asked Emory Cole what his excuse on the hunting was—no one understood Abe's answer. The best catch was brought in by Tom St. Charles and for the size of that rabbit he must have used buck shot or slugs to get him, but latest reports are that he used neither—a silver slug got that one.

Charlie and Oscar, with the help of butcher, Hank Bennett, did a good job on supper and they are in favor of having another one soon, so you Legionnaires who missed this one should take a tip from those who didn't and don't miss the next.

Of course after the feast there was the job of putting the kitchen back in shape, but with Head Cook Charlie, pushing Head KP Vale Gee and Vale pushing the other KPs around, the job was done in good order.

Incidentally, Leon took more game home to his hounds than they brought to him.

Attention Oddfellows

East Jordan I. O. O. F. Lodge 360 will have a pot luck supper, Friday, Nov. 3 at 8:00 p. m. Mancelona Lodge will present our Lodge with the Traveling Gavel. Every member is urged to come.

Thomas T. Jensen, Born In Norway, Dies at Charlevoix Hospital

GIVES BUYING TIPS FOR NEW WASHERS

Will your new washing machine be the automatic or the conventional type?

This will depend upon what you need—the amount of laundry you have to do, other demands on your time and pocketbook. Take your time in choosing one and be sure you buy the right kind for your needs. This is the advice of Lucile Ketchum, extension home management specialist at Michigan State College. She adds this comment.

An automatic can take the drugery out of washday and lets you do other jobs while it does the washing. This may make it worth the cost to you, and it may cost more than twice as much as a good convential type washer.

You must have an ample supply of water, both hot and cold, for an automatic to work satisfactorily in your home. You must also have adequate water pressure. Ask about the requirements for hot and cold water and water pressure as you examine different kinds of automatic washers.

Check on installation costs, too, for they may add considerably to the cost of the washer. If you can have the washer bolted down, you may want to consider the bolt-down type which is less expensive than the models which don't have to be bolted to the floor.

If you choose a conventional type washer, will it have a wringer or a spinner? The spinner is to be desired from the standpoint of safety and it is less damaging to clothes. Most machines of this type have a separate spinner tub so that the wet colthes must be lifted by hand from the washer to the spinner. A wringer helps to life the clothes. With a wringer, the safety release is very important and should be easy to reach and operate.

Snorkel Causes Health Problems For Submariners

SAN FRANCISCO—The snorkel, a long tube invented by the Germans to supply a submerged vessel with air for its men and its engines, presents a number of new complications to life aboard a sub, a navy medical officer reports.

Rear Adm. H. L. Pugh reports it can produce a physical effect something like being tossed 10,000 feet in the air.

Sudden changes in humidity can aggravate minor illnesses of those aboard.

The air pressure can vary so rapidly that it can cause men to bleed through their ears.

Despite the snorkel's merits as a more or less constant source of fresh air to those submerged, it is possible that personnel cannot endure 60-day periods aboard. That was about the time limit on old-style submarines. It may have to be shortened.

These were among a long list of medical disclosures about submarine life reported by Admiral Pugh at a recent meeting of the American Medical association.

Endurance May Drop

The snorkel sticks out of the water a few feet. At the open end, where air is sucked in, is a valve which closes automatically when a wave engulfs it.

Despite this safety gadget, submarine compartments can become flooded because of a lag in the valve's operation. This happens when a wave hits and engulfs the open end, or when an inefficient helmsman fails to keep the ship at a certain level, or when there is a mechanical failure in the depth control apparatus.

The inrush of water floods men and machinery. The closing of the valve shuts off the air supply. But the engines keep going, rapidly gulping air. The engines act like vacuum pumps, decreasing atmospheric pressure.

This can produce thin air like that 10,000 feet above sea level. It hasn't caused any ill effects on personnel yet, but is a potential menace to men who need sure and steady hands and heads to keep the complicated machinery going.

Because the snorkel permits long periods of submerged cruising while the old-style submarine had to come up for air every night or so, crew endurance may be less than formerly.

New Hazards

Another medical hazard is the "lung" which permits men to escape individually from sunken submersibles. When a man is rising rapidly to the surface, the pressure of the water around him is decreasing so rapidly that he inhales all the time. This can cause breakage in the air sacs of the lungs and can lead to air "clots" with fatal results.

All these are just added hazards of submarine life because of the changes made during and since World War II. The men still are subject to the old-time difficulties.

When a submarine shoves off, nearly everybody gets a cold. This quickly runs its course through the whole crew and then disappears, because no outsider can come aboard to bring new sets of germs.

91-Year-Old Traveler Gets Chance to Climb Mountain

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—Mrs. Rosa B. Kellog has always wanted to climb a mountain. But now she is 91 and it seemed unlikely she would get the opportunity.

Recently, however, she got a chance and she was determined to realize her ambition despite her age. She plans to climb her mountain in Alaska this summer. She left recently on a travel tour.

"My friends seem to be worried about my going," said Mrs. Kellog as she went about packing for the trip.

"But I feel fine," she declared. "Why stay at home when I love to travel?"

Warned that living conditions might not be as comfortable as the 11 room home in which she lived, Mrs. Kellog replied:

"I wouldn't care if I had to sleep on the floor as long as I could join in the fun with the others."

Neighbors Help Family Of Accused American Spy

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—The wife and family of an American who is being held as a Russian spy are getting financial aid to meet living costs from neighbors.

The Rev. Owen E. Ruthledge, Methodist minister, and Charles H. Richards, a grocer, are directing a fund to support Mrs. Alfred Dean Slack and her two children.

The fund will be used only for Mrs. Slack and the children, Joe, 4, and Tommy, 2, and not for her husband's defense.

Mrs. Lewis Slack, sister-in-law of the accused man, said the family's income was cut off by the arrest. She said their home had been mortgaged and was still unfinished. She said it probably could not be sold or rented.

SHORT STORY

Strange Spectacles

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

3-Minute Fiction

ON THE MORNING of Aug 4th, Sandra Hunter glanced through her bedroom window and saw a strange spectacle. Between the great white house and the street was a wide expanse of lawn, and this lawn was at present occupied by a young man pushing a lawn-mower.

Sandra didn't know what to make of it. She remembered that her mother and father were away for the week-end and that the servants were in the rear of the house.

By the time she had dressed and ventured outdoors, the young man had finished his mowing and was resting in the shade of the veranda.

"Will you kindly explain what this is all about?" said Sandra.

"I just mowed your lawn as it should be mowed."

"Should be mowed?" Sandra puckered up her brow. "What do you mean, 'should be mowed'? Who are you? And where is Rufus, our gardener?"

"I'm Jerry Leonard. I bribed your gardener this morning to let me mow your lawn. You see, I have to drive by your house every morning on my way to work, and every morning I've noticed that Rufus cuts the lawn unevenly."

"Well of all things!"

"Besides, I've been wanting to meet you since last June."

"Meet me?"

"Yes. My mother and I moved into the old Saunders place last June and, the day after, I saw you and decided I had to meet you. I noticed your lawn and thought of the idea of bribing Rufus. It was like killing two birds with one stone." He grinned. "I knew your father and mother were going to be away."

"Why, the very idea! I—I can't believe you're serious."

Jerry Leonard scratched his head. "I was never more serious in my life. Shucks! I'm sorry if you feel the way you look."

"The way I look!" Sandra began to wonder how she did look.

A dozen retorts came to mind but they all seemed flat and inadequate, almost silly. She hesitated for an instant longer and then turned abruptly and strode back to the house.

Jerry Leonard watched her go and into his face there came a look of disappointment.

THROUGHOUT the day Jerry was conscious of a forlorn misery. All his carefully formed plans had proved fruitless. At 5 o'clock he

"I've been hoping you'd speak to me for ever so long," Sandra said, "but you gave the impression of being rather high hat."

drove home via a route that did not take him past the Hunter estate. Leaving his coupe outside in the drive he entered the cottage by the rear door and found a note on the kitchen table, left there by his mother, which advised him that she had gone to a church supper and that if he didn't want to come too he'd find some warmed-over things in the oven.

Jerry moodily ate the warmed-over things and afterward stepped outside to smoke a cigarette. He was about to ease himself comfortably onto the doorstep when he chanced to glance toward the drive. He blinked, rubbed his eyes, swallowed. "What the devil!" he said.

As he approached, the girl who had been washing the automobile's wheels straightened up and stood off to survey her work. It was Sandra Hunter.

"What the dickens," said Jerry "are you up to?"

"Oh," she said. "Hello." She gestured toward the coupe. "Dirty wheels. Been getting on my nerves for weeks."

"Wha—what?" said Jerry.

"I've noticed you driving by every day from my bedroom window. Rest of the car looks fine, but you always seem to forget the wheels. Very annoying."

Jerry puckered up his brow. He peered at the girl very intently. His face was grave. He said, "Is that all?"

"No," said Sandra. "I've been hoping you'd speak to me for ever so long, but you gave the impression of being well, rather high hat. This seemed like a logical method to promote friendly relations," she grinned. "You see, I knew your mother was away."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Peace Talks Proposed by Stassen; U. N. Forces Cross 38th Parallel; High Prices Weaken Defense Plan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Harold E. Stassen, president of University of Pennsylvania as he announced contents of a message he sent to Soviet Generalissimo Joseph Stalin proposing that they confer and urging Russia to "stop the drift to war." Stassen's message was delivered to the Soviet embassy and a copy to the state department.

STASSEN:

A Just World Peace

Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania and twice an aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination, stepped in where angels fear to tread.

The former Minnesota governor wrote a letter to Premier Stalin suggesting that they confer on steps that need be taken to achieve "a just world peace."

Stassen was quick to point out that his letter was written without consultation either with President Truman or the state department; that is, Stassen had written to Stalin in his private capacity and the letter had no official inspiration.

Stassen declared that, if his bid was successful, he would have "four or five of this country's top citizen leaders" accompany him to Moscow for the conference.

There is a possibility that Stalin might accept Stassen's proposal. In fact, some quarters believe the Russians will jump at the chance, if for nothing else, at least for the opportunity to pound out the old propaganda line that the Soviet is anxious for world peace.

There is little possibility, however, that anything constructive will come of such a meeting. Whatever Stalin and Stassen's delegation might agree upon would have no official standing and in all probability would not coincide with American foreign policy.

As could be expected, Stassen's gesture produced political overtones immediately. One Democratic spokesman pointed out that the initiative of any such project properly belongs with the state department.

RISING COSTS:

Cut 750 Jet Fighters

The howl of the housewife that prices have climbed beyond any reasonable or sensible level was taken up by the air force which reported between April and September increases weakened the force's purchasing power by an equivalent of 750 F-86 jet fighter planes.

The cost increases in essential materials, John McCone, undersecretary for air, told the house armed services subcommittee would run about $315 million.

The under-secretary cited many examples. Among the increases were crude rubber, 128.9 per cent; aluminum, 2.9 per cent; copper, 23.6 per cent; tin 32.9 per cent; plus signs of accompanying wage rises as another basic factor in cost estimation.

It all boils down to the fact which the housewife has long known: prices are climbing by leaps and bounds. If the increases were hurting the armed service then perhaps something would be done to relieve the pinch on the general public.

Rep. Carl Vinson, member of the armed services committee, was blunt about the situation:

"Let's not kid ourselves. Congress has a choice of seeing these programs cut (4,428 new aircraft by 1952), or coming up with additional appropriations to meet these rising costs."

Headliners

President Truman who is becoming famous as a letter writer, wrote to his old friend Colorado State Senator Neal Bishop, "I wouldn't appoint John L. Lewis dogcatcher."

"The President could ill afford to have more brains in the dog department than in the department of state," replied the UMW boss with his usual bark and bite.

"We want nothing from Korea. We want no bases there. We do not want to and will not threaten any other country through the temporary presence of American troops in Korea on a U.N. mission," Warren R. Austin, American delegate to the United Nations told the general assembly.

KOREA:

A Future Hope

The United Nations gave Gen. Douglas MacArthur the signal to cross the 38th parallel in the final campaign to crush the Communists and the future hope of a unified Korea.

But the delay in giving that approval may cost the U.N. forces in manpower and material. It gave the Communists time to collect their shattered forces and prepare for another stand, whereas a continued attack by U.N. troops when the Reds were in full flight could have ended the war quickly.

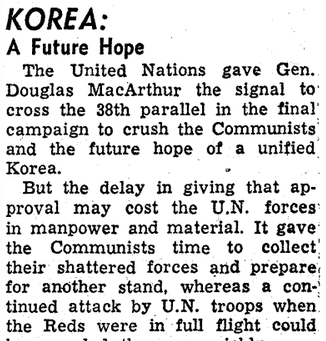

It was the old story of immature thinking and lack of plans on the part of the western nations. Had the situation been reversed, is there anyone who thinks the Reds would have stopped long enough to let U.N. forces regroup? They would have continued to attack and secure any necessary approval later.

But be that as it may, the general assembly finally got around to voting on the invasion of North Korea, approving it 47 to 5.

The assembly authorized:

1. That "all appropriate steps be taken to insure conditions of stability throughout Korea."
2. "That U.N. forces should not remain in any part of Korea otherwise so far as necessary to achieve some other aims of the plan."

Defense Line

Defense department officials and civil defense planners, met with heads of more than 53 women's groups at a meeting in the national security resources board headquarters in Washington.

V.F.W. HOWLS

U. N. Flag 'Superseding' Old Glory

To most people it was amusing, but to the department of agriculture it was serious.

The V.F.W., through its national commander, accused the agriculture department of "an apparent effort to flood the country with United Nations flags" to take the place of Old Glory over the nation's schools.

The commander said the agriculture extension service was supplying U.N. flag-pattern kits to 4-H and women's farm clubs and urging members to become "modern Betsy Rosses" by making such flags at home.

Said an agriculture department spokesman, "The proposal is to display U.N. flags parallel to the American flag, just as it is done by General MacArthur."

UNITED NATIONS:

New Twist for Soviet

While men died on the battlefields of Korea, power politics continued to rage in the United Nations, but with a new twist from the Soviet Union.

The new twist developed when the United States urged the U. N. to adopt a plan by which national troops would form a U.N. force to keep world peace by the veto-free general assembly.

Instead of ripping the plan apart, Soviet foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky said he saw some good point in it, but suggested each point of the proposal be discussed separately.

At first the western diplomats were shaken by Vishinsky's conciliatory tone and stared at each other in disbelief. But then it dawned upon them that by discussing the points separately, Russia almost certainly meant to oppose the key provision that would allow the general assembly to meet in 24 hours and act against aggression if a veto paralyzed the security council.

It was the old, old story of politics between world powers.

CHICAGO:

A Case of Jitters

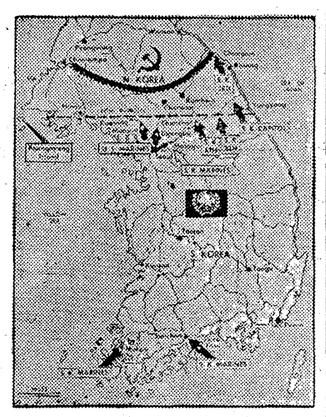

Senator Kefauver of Tennessee and his crime investigating committee arrived in Chicago, held a series of hearings, and departed leaving a case of jitters behind them that reached into high circles.

Said the senator as he departed: "We think we have found strong evidence that the Capone syndicate is still operating There is evidence of gangsters muscling into legitimate businesses, and of political ties between gangsters and politicians of both parties."

Kefauver's committee planned hearings in New York, Philadelphia and then a jump back to Chicago. A recent hearing in Miami revealed connections between gamblers and city officials in that winter resort.

After the Chicago hearings, Kefauver said he is convinced that a Mafia is in operation in Chicago at present. The Mafia is an Italo-Sicilian-born secret society of loose organization that specializes in extortion, and deals out its own punishment.

Civil Defense

The jagged line was the approximate defense line of North Korean forces battling against United Nations forces under Gen. Douglas MacArthur at the time the general demanded the surrender of the Communists.

SECURITY LAW:

Matter of Discretion

The nation's new Internal Security act has already been under fire in enforcement. The law had threatened for a time to bar the return to this country of Arturo Toscanini, the world's most renowned conductor.

The immigration department quickly issued a statement saying the musician would be allowed to re-enter this country, thereby avoiding a storm of protests.

At the same time Attorney General J. Howard McGrath said he was using his "discretionary" power in permitting Friedrich Gulda, 20, Austrian pianist, to enter this country for his American debut at Carnegie Hall.

Gulda joined the Nazi youth movement at the age of 10 because the law forced him to. The new law bars admission to the country of anyone who ever has been a member of, or "affiliated" with, a Communist, Nazi, or Fascist party.

CASUALTIES:

Heaviest Report

As United Nations forces crossed the 38th parallel and advanced into Communist territory, the department of defense released the heaviest casualty list of the Korean campaign.

It contained names of 1,211 members of the U.S. armed services. The deaths numbered 225; those wounded in action, 822; missing in action, 73, and injured 48.

CRIME:

Up in Rural Areas

Its hard to believe, but the facts are there just the same. The country crossroads continue to hold the crime spotlight during the first half of 1950.

The F.B.I. reported an increase of 7.4 per cent in rural crime compared with the same period in 1949. In the first half of last year, rural crime jumped 7.6 per cent.

Rural murders increased 1.6 per cent; rape, 4.8; robbery, 3.4.

What's Your Intake?

Lesson for October 29, 1950

FEW PEOPLE would care for a diet of sawdust, mixed with old bacon rinds and with carbolic acid for a drink. Yet some people who are very careful of what goes into their stomachs are astonishingly careless about the intake of their minds.

Dr. Foreman

What goes into your mind counts for more, and lasts longer, than what goes into your mouth. What you eat can kill you—your body, that is; but what you think, what you read, what you hear, can kill your mind. It can even kill your soul. You can afford to be particular. Down at the Cracked Cup Cafe they give you no choice. If you don't like the 50c dinner you can walk out; and if you are at all particular you will walk out. But at the best restaurants you are offered a wide choice, and the experienced diner-out will read the menu carefully before ordering.

Are you a Christian? Then don't feed your mind at the mental equivalent of the Cracked Cup Cafe. Go to a better spot. The beauty of food for the mind is that the best costs no more. The best foods for the table are rather expensive; the best mind-foods, soul-foods, are not.

Ear-Gate

IS WHAT you listen to, good for your mind? What's your intake, by ear? A woman who had roomed in another woman's house for some time was looking for a new place. Her old room was inexpensive, sunny, convenient, clean; there was nothing wrong with the room. But she had to listen to the landlady every day, and from her she never heard good of any one.

"If I stay there any longer I shall go crazy," the roomer confided to a friend. "She'll get me to thinking the way she does, and she thinks everybody's a crook."

In Tennyson's "Idyls of the King" is that fine rule of the Round Table: "To speak no slander — no, nor listen to it . . . " Listening to slander, trash, mean and malicious gossip, day after day, is bound to have a serious effect on any one's mind.

Eye-Gate

THE STRANGE thing is that Christians can be seen taking the greatest of pains picking out the right food for their dogs and cats, and yet never exercising the least choice in what comes into their minds by ear or eye. They will let the radio run on hour after hour, they look at whatever the television puts on the screen,—the dirty with the clean, the trash with the jewels (if any). They read the newspapers from front to back, or vice versa, they read all the comics whether they are amusing or not. But when it comes to picking out something good for their minds, really going to the trouble of selection, and paying out folding money for it, how many, even Christian people, will do it?

It would be interesting to compare what most people spend on quite unnecessary stuff like soft drinks and cigarettes, with what they spend for books in a year's time. Would you like to sit down with a great and good man or woman and let him talk to you by the hour, to give you the best of his mind and heart? It can always be done—with a good book. Not, usually, the best sellers!

An intelligent Christian woman recently had to move almost a thousand miles; when you move that far and have to pay by the pound for what you take, you screen your stuff pretty carefully. "I am throwing away all my best sellers," she said. "There's not a one worth wasting freight on." She was right about most best-sellers. But the old-time, long-time, all-time best seller of them all is the Christian Bible.

Is Your Mind a Vacant Lot?

IT IS MORE than a question of what you read and see and hear. An even more serious question is: What do you think about? Good reading, even the Bible, was never meant to be a substitute for thought. One of the great books of ancient times was "Consolations of Philosophy," written by a man in jail without a book in his cell. But the fine books he had read were in his head and heart, and when he became a political prisoner, alone and poor and friendless, his mind was still a garden. What is your mind—a garden, or a desert, or only a vacant lot littered with junk?

FARM FACTS from your County Agricultural Agent

Ed. Rebman, Co. Agr'l Agent

BARE HEADED FIELDS DON'T NEED WASHING

Though the soil may not complain now about not being covered over winter, Ed Rebman, county agr'l agent, says that the results show up in poor soil condition later.

Cover crops can be a big help in protection from wind and water erosion and also save losses from leaching. A living cover crop wil collect some of these losses and retain them for future use.

Agent Rebman agrees with Michigan State College soils and crops specialists who say that rye is a good cover crop to sow in the fall. The regular Rosen rye gives good soil production. If spring pasture is needed, Balbo rye is recommended.

Rye can be sowed until about the end of October in Charlevoix county, the agent says.

A seeding of one and one-half to two bushels is sufficient. A quicker protective cover can be had by using a commercial fertilizer. Two hundred pounds of 3-12-12 on light sandy land is the application recommended.

You Can't Build A Better Mousetrap!

"They're not the best-looking boarders a man ever had," Hack Turner said one day, "and they've got awful tempers. But I've found it pays to have 'em around."

Hack was talking about a family of barn owls, nesting in his silo this year. Some folks believe those little white-faced screechers kill chickens—and ought to be shot on sight. But Hack disagrees.

"Up at State University they've studied barn owls for years—and never known one to eat a chicken. On the other hand, a daddy owl will clean up around 300 mice a month. Farmers that kill barn owls are throwing away the best mousetraps known to man!"

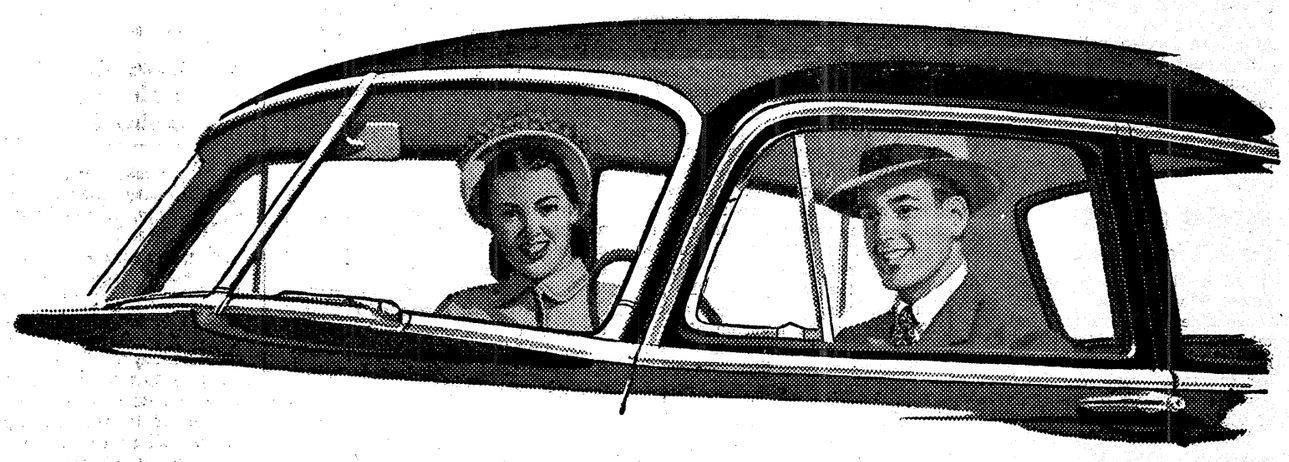

From where I sit, when someone shows a prejudice against any group of animals or humans—it's usually just based on misunderstanding. For instance, some folks are plumb intolerant about those of us who enjoy an occasional quiet glass of beer. Get to really know us and you're liable to find we're pretty good birds at that!

Election news these past weeks have been unusually quiet with only an occasional bellow of "socialism" to spice the atmosphere. G. O. P. still is hacking at the Americans for Democratic Action (A. D. A.)—mostly trying to find out just what it is.

Meanwhile the legislature continues in session—although recessed. The special session was called March 15 but has refused to adjourn to postpone action on Willians appointees until after the election.

Adjournment is expected to be in December instead of immediately following the election since many members dislike being called back during deer hunting season Nov. 15-30.

Embarrassing to Governor Williams was the disclosure that John Sabol, democratic congressional candidate signed a Communist pact in 1940. Sabol has shared a speaking platform with the governor.

Embarrassing to Republicans was the poor turnout in Jackson for rededication of the party's fight against socialism and a planting of acorns alongside the giant oak beneath which the G. O. P. is said to have been founded. Some 100 persons attended.

Good news from Korea has lessened the anxiety felt over another "all-out" conflict but the casualty lists still roll in. Michigan now has more than 1,000 on this roster with over 160 dead and 200 missing in action.

An evidence of another war keeps cropping up. Now 10,137 displaced persons from Europe have been absorbed by Michigan. How do they feel? Well, how would you feel to find freedom after oppression?, they say.

Young doctors of the state who were trained through armed forces programs are peering into the funnel of draft boards. Passage of a medical draft registration act makes them eligible for call. Only a few in low age brackets are expected to get their papers.

Economists now refer to this period as the "inflation of World War II½, having worked us through inflation of World War II and inflation of the postwar period.

Opinions still differ concerning the new building curbs. Will it mean depression as some home buiders say, or stabilization of the building industry? None of the builders have yet reported applying for welfare.

Industrialists state that the auto industry still has but a small volume of defense work under way. But it expects much more—and it also expects to turn out a "substantial volume" of civilian vehicles in 1951.

Michigan's "Little Hoover Commission" now eyes the state highway department, department of agriculture and state legal counseling services. The commission hopes to find ways to cut bureau expenses.

What do the ladies worry about? There now is an organization known as "Fatties Anonymous" which operates on the same basis as the anti-tippling organization. They bolster one another in the fight to push away from the table. Slogan. You'll be more spic when you've got less span.

With the pheasant season now well under way hunters report an excellent year. Pre-war years success wasn't equalled but the nimrods agree this is the best season since the war's end.

A 13,977,000 state conservation budget for the next fiscal year will be recommended by the conservation commission to the legislature in January. The figure includes $4,015,000 for parks operation, repair and development.

PMA Chairman Announces 1951 Committee Elections

PMA farmer-committee elections will be held in each of Charlevoix County's 10 farm communities during the period of November 1 to 15, 1950, LeRoy Hardy, Chairman of the county PMA Committee announced today.

Nomination meetings will be held in each community to select candidates for the positions of Chairman, Vice Chairman, member of the community committee, and two alternates. Ballots listing the nominees will be mailed to approximately 1164 farmers in Charlevoix County. Voting will be by mail and ballots will be received in the county PMA office from Nov. 24 to Dec. 21. Any farmer is eligible to vote who is an owner, operator, tenant or sharecropper on a farm that is participating in any program administered during the current calendar year by the county and community PMA committee.

Farmers in every community will also elect a delegate to a county convention where a county committee will be elected to serve during 1951.

The ballot will be counted by an impartial election board in the county PMA office on Dec. 22.

This provision in farm legislation which gives farmers an opportunity to elect their fellow farmers to administer farm program is one of the most progressive steps in agricultural development in our times. Farmers of Charlevoix County can demonstrate their support of this democratic way of administration by attending the nomination meetings, help select the candidates and by voting for the farmers o their choice.

Be sure and watch for the schedule of the community nomination meetings to be held in Charlevoix County in next week's paper, which will give you the name of the community, the time, and the place of the meeting.

Should Have Worked

A YOUNG MAN was being examined as to his qualifications for an important position at Columbia university. "This job," the preliminary interviewer told him, "requires the ability to handle people in a way that will retain their good will, under any circumstances."

Thus briefed, the young man sailed past one examiner after another until he came to the final test—an interview with President Eisenhower himself.

The conversation went along without proving much of anything until suddenly General Ike leaned forward and asked: "Whom do you consider the three greatest men in American history?"

"I didn't quite catch your name, sir," replied the candidate, "but the other two are Washington and Lincoln."

BURNED 'EM UP

A woman was talking with a friend about the athletic achievements of the latter's son.

Your boy must be an exceptionally fast runner; I see by this morning's paper that he fairly burned up the track with his record-breaking speed. I suppose you saw him do it?"

"No, I didn't see him do it," replied the boy's mother, "but I saw the track this morning and there was nothing but cinders there."

Give Him Time!

They had new neighbors and the wife was much interested in them. In a few days she reported:

"They seem a most devoted couple, John. He kisses her every time he goes out, and even waves kisses to her from the sidewalk. Why don't you do that?"

"Why don't I?" replied John. "Good heavens! I don't even know her yet."

Stickler for Truth

He had had hard luck fishing, and on his way home he entered the fish market and said to the dealer, "Just stand over there and throw me five of the biggest of those trout!"

"Throw 'em? What for?" asked the dealer in amazement.

"So I can tell the family I caught 'em. I may be a poor fisherman, but I'm no liar."

Change of Climate

"I have told your wife that she must go to the mountains."

"That's all right, doctor; now tell me I must go to the seashore."

Surprise!

"Has he ever tried to tell you about his forbears?"

"Gracious! Don't tell me he is an animal trainer!"

Survey Shows Radical Change in Homemaker's Food Shopping Habits

Homemakers may not realize it, but their shopping habits have changed radically, especially within the last ten years.

According to a recently completed survey of housewives conducted by university research experts, most women now shop for groceries only once a week, and their favorite day is Friday. This is due largely to two factors: the prevalence in both small and large communities of the supermarket, which stocks all foods in one location, making it unnecessary to shop from store to store, and the influence of foods advertising in papers toward the end of the week.

But the Friday preference is still mostly habit, and store managers are willing to change all that. They have been urging for years that women avoid the rush of weekend shopping and market at the beginning of the week instead. Any day now is a good day on which to buy food, since the automatic refrigerator became standard equipment in more than 33,000,000 homes.

In the old days, before refrigeration caught up with the homemaker's requirements, it was almost mandatory that she load up on food for the crowded weekend meal schedule, because her inefficient icebox could not be relied upon to preserve foods over a longer period.

Now that the modern refrigerator has replaced the fast-melting ice cake, and the newest models come equipped with special compartments for frozen foods, the lady of the house can save herself wear and tear of crowds by doing once-a-week shopping on a day when customers are fewer in the stores. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are excellent days, the survey shows. Although 44 per cent of women shop on Fridays, only about three per cent avail themselves of the first three days of the week.

A Thanksgiving Prayer . . .

For the Preservation of Our Homes

We, the homemakers of America, numbering more than 50 million, working together, can be the greatest single unit of influence in a world fighting for lasting peace. Let us work together and thus impel the peoples of other countries to awaken to the realization that freedom and democracy as it is known and practiced in America . . . as it must be known and practiced in other lands . . . begins in the home, depends on the home, and is successful because of the principles on which our homes are founded.

The eyes of the world are turned our way searchingly. As guardians of our homes we must, we will, give our best so that they, the people of other lands, may understand more clearly the profound but simple truth . . . that America, the greatest and strongest nation on earth, is free and strong because of the greatness and strength of the women who organize and manage its homes.

Fifty million women can not be defeated. With divine help, whatsover lies in our hands to do can be done . . . with firmness, and without doubt.

about this question

Our home has been insured for $6000 for many years. The inflation in real estate has probably raised its value above $10,000. If our home burned, would our fire insurance pay the amount it would take to replace the home, or only a maximum of $6,000?

SHORT STORY

Annette Passes Out

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

IN SEPTEMBER Bill decided he wasn't in love. He told himself it had been a summer romance. He regretted it. He couldn't walk out and leave Annette flat. He had to offer some sort of explanation.

The wind whipped in their faces as the roadster sped through the night. Annette snuggled contentedly at his shoulder.

3-Minute Fiction

He swung the roadster off the highway. They bumped along a wagon road, presently emerging into a clearing. Bill stopped. Toward the north the horizon was illuminated by a dull glow. Lights from the town.

Bill turned. Annette said: "Oh, Bill, I'm so glad we came out here. It was here you first told me you loved me. Remember?"

"Sure. I remember."

"Say it now. Bill. Say you love me!"

Bill had intended to say just the opposite. Without knowing why, he pitied her. He spoke, but what he said was: "Of course I love you. You know that." It was as if she impelled him to say it.

"Kiss me, Bill. Kiss me and say it again."

He kissed her, repeating the words, cursing himself for doing so.

Why did she have to cling to him so?

He got a grip on himself. He formed the words in his mind.

"Bill, I've got a surprise for you."

"Surprise?"

"I'm going back to Belfast with you. I've got a job there for the winter. We'll be together all winter, Bill, Isn't it grand!"

Lord! Now he was in for it. He hadn't expected that. Well, he'd have to be blunt, cruel. He'd have to tell her once and for all.

"BILL!" There was terror in her tone. He turned quickly. She was looking away from him toward the horizon where the dull glow had been. The dull glow he had thought to be town lights had developed into astonishing brilliance.

"Fire! The whole ridge is ablaze. Say, we'd better get going!"

He jammed his foot down on the starter. The motor whirred, and that was all. Bill swore, yanking out the choke. There was a sputtering whine, a cough, silence

Bill opened the roadster's door. "Come on! Engine's dead. We'll have to run for it."

He yanked her out of the car, started running along the wagon road, dragging her behind him. He hadn't realized that fire could be like this. The speed of its approach amazed him.

"Bill! Wait! You're going too fast."

Bill turned just as she fell forward. He knelt beside her. "Try

"I'm going back to Belfast with you," Annette said. "I've got a job there for the winter."

and get up. We've got to keep going. It's our only chance."

Pitifully she tried, sank to the ground, moaning softly. He stooped and lifted her in his arms.

"Bill, don't! You can't! Go on and leave me. There's no use in both of us—"

He went on blindly. Behind him now he could hear the crackle of flames. The road ahead was alight from the brilliance of the fire. It required no effort to move.

Then suddenly, ahead, he saw the main highway. There were lights there. The lights from automobiles and trucks.

Bill lay sprawled in the back seat of a joggling touring car. He opened his eyes and saw Annette. Behind her the sky was dull red.

"Bill, why did you do it? Why didn't you leave me there when—when you knew——"

He said: "Say, what do you take me for? Leave behind the girl I love!"

"Oh, Bill, I've known for a month you didn't. I wouldn't let myself believe I was losing you. I wouldn't give you the chance to tell the truth."

Bill swallowed. So that was it? So that was the reason she had—— Suddenly he lifted her in his arms "Annette," he whispered, "say you love me. Say it, and kiss me, darling."

Bowling News

East Jordan Masons played host to Petoskey and Charlevoix but treated their guests with little kindness as they won 4 points from each team. The 8 points adds to the East Jordan 1st place lead and gives the local team 15 wins to 1 loss.

In the Merchant's League two new individual scoring records were made as Don Clark opened his 3rd game with a six bagger and scored a neat 250, while Barned Adair wired games of 187-221-212 together for a 620 series. The East Jordan Canners continued to set the pace and increased their 1st place lead with a 4 point win over Dip's Tavern. Stu Atkinson again led the Canning Co. team with 554. Ed Nemecek's 490 was high for the losers. The Recreation won 4 points from the Legion as they had team high series for the night with 2586. Thorsen's Lumber Co. and Monarch Finer Foods won 3 each from Sommerville's Grocery and State Farm Insurance. Joe Wilkins' 573 with a 242 middle game was high for Thorsen's, and Don Clark was high for State Farm Ins. Leo Sommerville had high for his team with 528. Ike Rood's 483 was tops for Monarch.

The Anchorage and State Bank split 2 points each, as did Ellsworth Electric and St. Joseph. Gene Teichman had high series for the Anchorage with 481. Greg Boswell led the Bankers with 539. Jim Lilak had high for St.Joseph with 519 and Less Arndt high for Ellsworth Electric with 523.

While the State Bank team was winning 4 points to put them in 2nd pace in the Ladies League, Mickey Hamerski was pounding out another big series in the Canning Co. team. Games of 143-234-166 for 543 gave her top honors for the week and also for the season. She had tied with Marge Gee with a 212 game and 508 series earlier in the season for high seasonal game and series. She will probably be offered a contract with one of the Monday night teams now. How about it, fellas? What are we offered?

Jennie Bartlett had 2nd high series for the week with 497. State Bank had high team series of 2161.

Recreation, Dress Shop and State Bank won 4 points from Bachman's, Recreation Jrs. and Rainbow Bar respectively. Thorsen's won 3 from the Canning Co. while Dip's and Home Modernizing; Club 131 and Art Cleaners split 2 and 2.

Fall Leaves Start Good Compost Pile

When you burn that fall accumulation of leaves you're letting good fertilizer for your garden and shrubs go up in smoke, Dr. L. M. Turk, head of the soil science department at Michigan State College advises. He suggests you use them to make a compost pile which will furnish artificial manure for next spring and summer.

By putting the leaves, grass clippings, mature weeds, corn fodder and straw in a pile and treating the plant refuse with commercial fertilizer and ground limestone, valuable humus may be returned to the soil, Turk reports.

The soil scientist recommends that the leaves be put into a container that can be made with a few stakes and some chicken wire. By scattering a few handsful of 10-6-4 fertilizer and some ground limestone on each layer and wetting it down, bacteria action will begin which will result in decomposition.

The compost pile should be kept moist, but you shouldn't apply enough water to cause drainage of the fertilizer from the leaves. The top of the pile should be saucer shaped, Dr. Turk advised, to catch rain.

The average city gardener can make as much as 125 cubic feet of artifical manure with leaves, 100 pounds of 10-6-4 fertilizer and 25 pounds of ground limestone, the soils authority reminded. If made this fall, it will be ready for use next spring.

To keep friends, always give your candied opinion.

He Laughed Last

In one of our eastern college classes the professor was unable to stay for the class, so he placed a sign on the door which read as follows:

"Professor Blank will be unable to meet his classes today."

Some college lad, seeing his chance to display his sense of humor after reading the notice, walked up and erased the "c" in the word "classes." The professor, noticing the laughter, wheeled around, walked back. looked at the student, then at the sign with the "c" erased—calmly walked up and erased the "l" in "lasses," looked at the flabbergasted student and proceeded on his way.

Active Family

Little Susie's hair cracked as her mother combed it. "What makes it crack?" the child asked.

"Because it has electricity in it," said her mother.

"Gee," exclaimed Susie, "we're sure in the groove. I got electricity, Granpa's got gas, and Daddy's all lit."

Fish Story

Harry Maule, champion flycaster of Madison Avenue, tells of a day when he forgot to take any bait with him on a fishing expedition off the Florida keys. His grandson was along with him in the boat, playing with a brightly colored plastic little wheel-barrow. Maule swapped a bottle of coke for the wheelbarrow, tied it to his line, dropped it into the waters of the Caribbean—and caught a wheelbarricuda.

Even A Goose Knows

"How do you get down off an elephant?"

"You climb down."

"Wrong!"

"You grease his sides and slide down."

"Wrong!"

"You take a ladder and get down."

"Wrong!"

"Well, you take the trunk line down."

"No, not quite. You don't get down off an elephant; you get it off a goose."

It Ain't Easy

The dean was investigating a charge made by the sorority girls that the men who lived in the fraternity house next door never lowered their shades.

The dean looked out of the sorority window and said:

"Why, I can't see into any of the fraternity house windows."

"Oh, yes, you can!" said the girls. "All you have to do is to get up on a chair."

Relief

"Well, what is the matter with your husband?"

"I think, doctor, he is worrying about money."

"Ah! I think I can relieve him of that!"

Undesirable Alien

Customer: "Remember the cheese you sold me yesterday?"

Grocer: "Yes, madam."

Customer: "Did you say it was imported or deported from Switzerland?"

Uninhabited

Landlady: "Well, young man, did you sleep well last night?"

Roomer: "To tell the truth ma,am, I didn't sleep at all. I was troubled with insomnia."

Landlady: "Nonsense! Why I'll wager there isn't a single one in that bed."

He Wins

A surgeon, an architect, and a politician were arguing as to whose profession was the oldest.

Said the surgeon: "Eve was made from Adam's rib, and that surely was a surgical operation."

"Maybe," said the architect, "but prior to that, order was created out of chaos, and that was an architectural job."

"But," interrupted the politician, "somebody created the chaos first!"

Bees Talk, Fish Smell and Hear, Expert Reports

MUNICH, Germany—Bees can talk and fish can smell, a professor at the Zoological Institute of the University of Munich believes.

Fish smell food in water, he says. They can hear, too. He told of putting a student in a tank in an aquarium and having him play the violin. The student didn't hear it, but the fish did.

"Of course bees do not speak as we do. They have no words. That would be impossible, I think. They speak another way. They waggle," he said.

He explained when a bee locates some nectar, it eats its fill, then wings back to the home colony to spread the word that "soup's on."

"By a certain number of waggles per minute," said Professor Kar von Frisch, "it tells the others exactly how far they will have to travel."

It also waggles in the direction of the nectar.

But getting back to fish, the professor said, there is one species, the knurrhahn, that "almost talks."

"The male knurrhahn makes a soft growl," Frisch said. "When he growls that is a signal. The female knurrhahn hears it and comes to him. Then he stops growling."

But most fish are better at hearing, he said. Frisch had phenomenal success with one experiment. He would blow a whistle and then hit a fish on the head with a rod. Pretty soon the fish hid whenever he blew the whistle.

Flagpole Sitter's Dream Of Glory Killed by Insults

ATLANTA, Ga.—Odell Smith dreamed of riding to glory on a flagpole. That dream, however, has been smashed.

Smith learned—by stitting 108 days atop a 60 foot pole—that flagpole sitters aren't much in demand. The fortune he had expected to make with books, advertising schemes and radio shows amounted to $13.

He didn't mind the lack of money so much, Smith said, but the insults hurled at him by rowdy customers at the drive-in where the pole was erected finally broke his spirit.

He returned to earth, 10 days short of breaking the world record.

Scientist Plans Record Dive in Pacific Ocean

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Sometime this summer a man will descend a mile into the ocean to see the weird creatures that inhabit the sea at that depth.

Last year Otis Barton, Boston scientist, descended 4,500 feet off Santa Cruz island. The lighting system in his steel diving bell failed and consequently his movie cameras did not record the strange, self-illuminated sea creatures he described by telephone during the perilous dive.

This time, however, the lighting will be ocean proof, he said. Powerful bulbs sealed in mineral oil will be attached to the outside of the 7,000 pound ball which Barton calls a "benthoscope."

After tests he will attempt to dive to 6,000 feet.

As before, the benthoscope will be lowered by cable from a large barge. The laboratory ship Velero IV of the University of Southern California will co-operate in the venture.

MacArthur Touch Evident In Korean War Communiques

WASHINGTON, D. C.—That MacArthur touch is evident in the Korean war.

Relaying to headquarters the text of his communiques and other official announcements, Gen. MacArthur closed out his report with an account about a captured North Korean naval lieutenant.

The North Korean had been skipper of five motor torpedo boats sunk by an American cruiser. Asked by American interrogators why he had failed to fire his torpedoes during the attack and had tried to run his boat aground, the lieutenant replied: "The gunfire from the cruiser was so heavy we thought it would be safer on the beach."

The MacArthur report added: "This is probably the first quotable quote of the war."

Twenty-Six Pigs in One Litter May be World Record

OWENSBORO, Ky.—What may be the world's record pig litter has been born on the farm of Guy M. Deane.

The sow gave birth to 26 pigs—almost three times the number in a normal litter. Twenty-three lived and appeared healthy. The other three were believed to have been accidentally killed by the animal.

Biggest problem of the over-size litter was feeding. The sow was able to feed only 12 at a time. To ease the situation, Deane handed over five of the little pigs to two other sows.

The 26-pig sow, a spotted Poland China, was bred to a Hampshire boar. It was her fourth litter. Heretofore her litters had run from eight to 12 pigs.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

An 80-year-old East Jordan man, Mr. George Murray, was honored by a birthday party at his home on the West Side. Mr. Murray is the only surviving son of Forbus and Abigail Murray, who came from Canada to South Arm Twp. in 1868. He was born in a log house on the homestead, Oct. 17, 1890.

The party was given by his three children: Mrs. Lena Holland, at home; Mrs. Thomas Bussler, East Jordan; and Mr. Alonzo Murray, Charlevoix.

Four generations attended the party. They were: Mr. Murray; his daughter, Mrs. Bussler; his grandson, Mr. Marlin Bussler of Cheboygan; and his great grandson, Timmy Bussler. Mr. Murray has five grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Those from away to attend the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Bussler and son of Cheboygan, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Murray and son of Charlevoix, and a sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMellean of Flint.

HOMECOMING QUEEN

Friday, Oct. 20, between halves of the East Jordan vs. Boyne City football game, Shirley Rebec was crowned homecoming queen by Elwyn Evans, president of the student council. There were four candidates running for queen. They were: Marie Schliska, ninth grade; Shirley Murphy, tenth grade; Shirley Rebec, eleventh grade; and Hilda VanDeventer, twelveth grade. The queen was chosen by the popular vote of the high school students.

Queen Shirley and her escort led the grand march at the homecoming dance Friday night.

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Stokes

Fifteen people had perfect attendance the first marking period. They are: Phyllis Bridgewater, Jean Combest, Marvin Crawford, Billy Derenzy, Beth Galmore, Buddy Gee, Jean Graham, Betty Healey, Darlene McClanathan, Donald Metcalf, Josephine Nemecek, Glenn Pinney, Edward Touchstone, David Umlor.

We like to play with clay. One day some of us made leaf plaques to paint and keep.

FIRST Grade — Mrs. Bowerman

The following people were not absent during the first marking period: Tommy Derenzy, Raymond Fisher, Carolyn Gee, Jane Graham, Nancy Lehrbass, Suzanne Malpass, Ronnie Metcalf, Patsy Murphy, David Pienta, Dickie Raymond, Chris Schroeder, Kenneth Sineway and Keith Holley.

We are making plans for our Halloween party. We are going to make the candy in our room.

SECOND Grade —Mrs. Johnston

Last Wednesday afternoon we went for a walk near the school. Larry Schumacher's dog, Bingo, went with us. We found a beautiful maple tree and sat down under it to listen while Mrs. Johnston told us a Halloween story. After the story we had our usual Wednesday News Time. Each one told something he had seen or had done during the past week.

Quotations from the class:

Judy Malpass, "Sunday we went out to our cottage and picked beech nuts."

Loretta Sineway, "I saw a green house."

David Bartholomew, "I saw some big trees and little trees. Some had leaves on their branches."

Jean Kraemer, "My little kitten likes to play with her tail."

Donald Skop, "I rode a pony out at my grandfather's farm."

Thomas Healey, "I saw a bird's nest in a tree."

Susie Stinchcomb, "I went down my grandmother's house. I went for a ride in my aunt's new car.

Stanley Bennett, "I play with my wagon every night after school."

Donald Derenzy, "I use my slingshot at the gravel pit."

Larry Schumacher, "Billy Johnson and I played Indians and cowboys in the woods.'

Gerald Muma, "My brother and I made a Jack o' lantern for Hallowe'en."

Jane Dunson, "On our walk I say some pretty flowers."

Richard McKinnon, "Sunday, I fed the chickens."

Those who were neither absent nor tardy during the first six week's marking period are: Stanley Bennett, Virginia Donaldson, Frances Hayes, Judith Jankoviak, Catherine Kamradt, Peter Knudsen, Jean Kraemer, Gerald Muma, Robert Omland, Donelda Scott and Loretta Sineway.

We are having a race to see whether the girls or boys return their report cards first.

FOURTH Grade — Mrs. Snyder

Last week we reached Yellowstone National Park on our trip across the United States in geography and Carolyn's mother, Mrs. W. E. Mapass, came to show us movies which she and Mr. Malpass took while visiting there. It was a bright day and our room could not be made dark enough to see the pictures clearly, so we hope she will come again when a dark room is available.

Today Mrs. Snyder came back from her trip to Pittsburg. She traced her journey on the map and told us interesting things she saw. She brought back pictures to show us where she had been. We enjoyed having Mrs. Downing for our teacher while Mrs. Snyder was gone.

Our room is decorated for Halloween with witches, pumpkins and back cats.

We enjoyed the assembly last week.

FIFTH Grade — Sadie Liskum

We are reviewing division facts in arithmetic. We certainly enjoy our new arithmetic books. Thank you, Mr. Wade.

We are making masks for Hallowe'en. This is fun but a lot of work.

We have finished the study of the South Atlantic States and we took our notebooks home Tuesday.

Mrs. Liskum was gone to Gaylord Thursday. She attended a council meeting of the 4-H leaders representing Charlevoix Co.

SIXTH Grade — Alma Larsen

We had our club meeting today for new committees: Housekeeper, Sharon Hayes; Engineer, Howard Donaldson; News Reporter, Jimmy Barnett;; Librarian, Bonnie Snyder; Dismisser, Sonja Olson; Girls' Bathrooms, Martha Lord and Lavina Bowen; Boys' Bathrooms, Neal Evans and Milton Bowman. — Deanna Derenzy.

Last week Mrs. Larsen went to Petoskey Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday for an art class. Bryan Boring came in our room and took Mrs. Larsen's place after 2 o'clock each afternoon. — Milton Bulmann.

We went on a trip last week end down to Peck and Melvin. On the way down we saw oil wells digging and pumping for oil. We also saw a donkey. We brought my grandma back with us. — Martha Lord.

Sunday, Oct. 15, 1950, I went to Dead Man's Hill at Alba on M-31. It is a big hill. There were three men and seven horses killed in early lumbering days on this hill. — Bill Farmer.

Last week Lucille Eggers brought us a poster. On this poster is a group of dolls belonging to the U. N. There were fifty-nine countries represented. They were dressed like the people dress in their countries. — Sandra Boswell.

We started for Traverse City at about 10:15 a. m. to visit some friends. We stopped in Elk Rapids to go to Sunday School and after that we left for Traverse City. We got there about 15 minutes to 1:00. After we ate dinner we went to the top of a hill to see a clear view of the city. We played around the rest of the afternoon. After we had supper we started for home and got home at 9:15 p. m. — Jimmy Barnett.

Last week the class wrote thank you letters to Betty, the nurse. Lucille Egger's letter was chosen to be sent. Faye Bennett.

We have an art corner where we draw pictures. We can draw anything we want to. Last Friday Mrs. Larson brought us some no-roll crayons. She put two desks together and then put the paper and crayons on them so we could draw. — Larry Ingalls.

The girls in our room are making doilies. Several of the boys were going to make some more frames by taking four strips of board and nailing them together. They put small nails ½ inch apart all around the frame. — Sharon Whitmore.

My dad got a new Ford last Tuesday. The car is green and a four door. It has a radio and heater. We have 171 miles on it. It has the over drive in it. — Donald Peters.

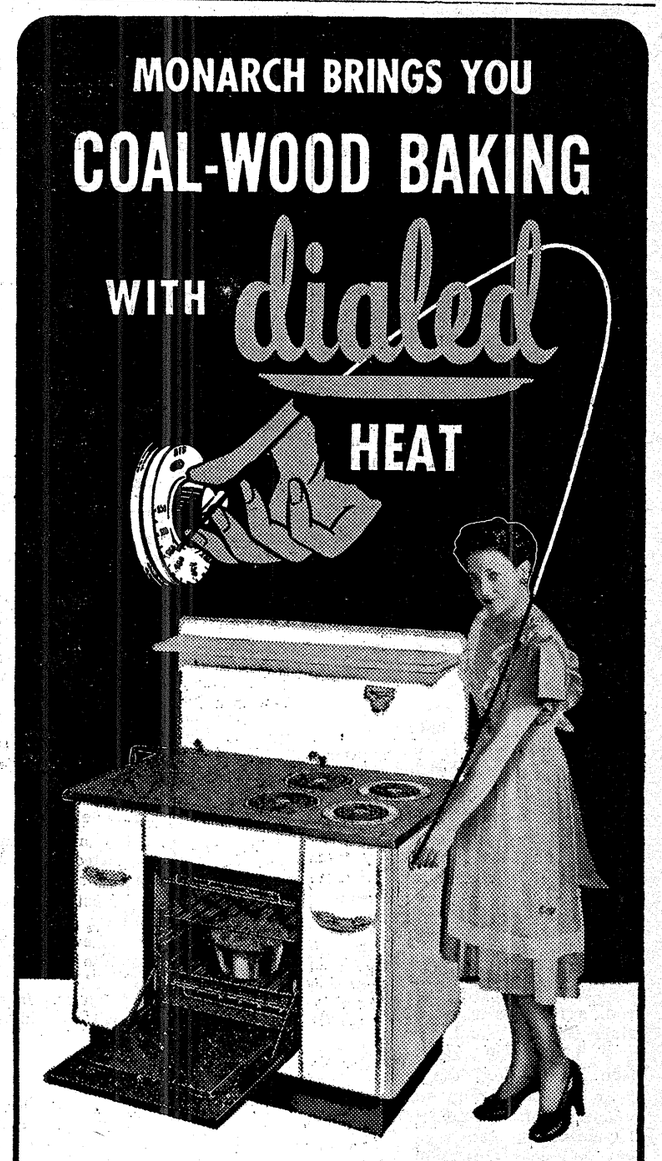

In our room Mrs. Larsen read us a story about Christopher Columbus. When she was through we wrote some stories. Some people are finished and some are not. The stories are about a boy who was thirteen. His name was Pedro. — Sandra Boswell.

Mrs. Larsen just finished reading a book to us called "Turnipseed Jones". The book is written by Edward W. Mammen and pictured by Jessie Robinson. — Dwayne Evans.
